is done by their cattle they will be sum-marily removed from the Indian territory.

POSTOFFICE APPROPRIATION.

washis fron, June 20.—Senator Plumb today reported the postoffice appropriation bill from the appropriation committee. It appropriates $72,461,699, an increase of $173.00 over the amount appropriated by the bill as it passed the house. There is an increase of $300,000 for compensation of postoffice clerks and an increase of $48,000 for transportation of foreign mails.

Laughter in the Bible.

The Bible contains no cheerful exhorta-tion to laughter. For the most part, indeed, it is referred to in the metaphorical sense of "scorning," as when it is written of Leventhan that "he laughed at the shak-ing of a spear." But there are passages also where the ordinary meaning is evidently intended, and in almost every one of these it is eyed askance. Solomon is the great authority on the subject; let him speak for himself: "I said of laughter, It is mad: a nd of mirth, What doethit?" "Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful, and the end of that mirth is beaviness." Again,

"A fool lifted up his voice with laughter, ut a wise man doth scarce smile a little."

Not very encouraging, truly, to those of hilarious proclivities. It may be legitimate enough to compare the giggle of a fool to "the crackling of thorns under a pot," but it seems hard that there should be no word of approval for the milder mentiment of the few who may be supposed not to belong to fooldom. Yes, by the way, there is one, and only one: "A time to laugh," but we may search the Scriptures from Genesis to the Apocalypse without detecting any intimation as to when that time occurs. Probably Solomon meant the brief period of childhood, when ignorance is bliss, and we are merry without knowing or caring to know why. He could not consistently recommend any such frivolity to those of a larger growth after having so bitterly Archison, Kan., June 20.—A severe rain storm visited the city last night and caused great damage to the city, the merchants, newspapers and railroads. MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR OUTPUT.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 20.—The Northwestern Miller says: The flour output of the mills last week was slightly increase, being 65,620 barrels, averaging 10.03 dally, against 59,810 the week before, 112,700 for the corresponding time in 1889 and 111,400 in 1888. The water was set into the canal Tuesday, after being shut off for three months, and since then more mill lake been running, though there are several that are unable to use water. There were eleven in operation yesterday, 4wo or three of which were using steam in whole or in part. The output was at the rate of 16,500 barrels per twenty-four hours. The flour market seems to be wholly without any feature of improvement. Some of the eastern flour men present at the millers' convention think that they discern more interest as shown by consumers, and are hopeful of a good demand setting in very soon. A local miller of bullish proclivities today remarked that it was in this very direction that he found reason for holding to the bull side of the market.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., June 20.—This fore-noon the law firm of Ware, Biddle & Cory, filed a petition in one of the most singular lawsuits ever inangurated in Kansas, and its trial will attract the attention of attorneys all over the country.
The facts connected with this case read like a romance and few plots to domestic presentations have more of the remarkable incidents connected with them than does

Many years ago, one W. Judd settled in this country and became possessed of a large and valuable tract of land. He subsequently married an estimable young lady, and lived with her several years, having one child, a girl who was mamed Jennie. They did not live harmoniously, however, and finally the wife got a divorce, and the husband gave her a fair share of the property in money and personal chattles. personal chattle

The most important work of the body was the appointment of an active immigration board of flue members of the cogvention. This board will actively engage in efforts to induce the location of northern people in the state of Georgia. ing is of the old style and of wood. Adjoining it is a garden, which, during the residence of the judge, was always a beauty spot. The judge was an enthusiastic Mason and frequently urged the erection of a Masonic temple, but it was probably far from his thoughts that his residence, after his death, would give way for the consumma-tion of the project. For some time past the residence has been unoccupied and has been going to decay. The fences about it have fallen or been pulled down and children played about where the judge some years ago nursed his exotic and other plants. The committee finally purchased the property for $33,000 from the trustees having charge of the estate.

The work of getting up the plans for the building was intrusted to Mr. John H. Post, a Paterson architect, and the plans have been approved of by the committee in charge. A perspective of the new building was prepared, and from which is obtained a photograph herewith presented. The work of tearing down the old building will be begun very shortly, and it is expected that before cold weather sets in again Paterson will have one of the finest Masonic temples in the state.
